During this past year, the days have been filled with memories and we have had a wealth of experiences. Our traditions and customs, organizations and social activities, outstanding athletic department, and high academic standards have made the time we put in worthwhile.

The enrollment rose to 2,045; the addition of fourteen new faculty members, bringing the total to 90, made North Side the largest high school in the city for the second consecutive year. We celebrated our 32nd anniversary and the '50's came to an end.

From the bright hustling mornings to the quiet restful evenings, we never failed to have eventful days at North.

So that you can relive these wonderful experiences, the Legend enthusiastically gives you a look at . . .

WITH COOPERATION, THE

Taking the time to throw away that piece of waste paper, helping out in the office, or just walking to class; all reflect the friendly and cooperative spirit of Redskins. These customs have helped to build our school to what it is today and what it stands for. This real spirit shows up throughout the year in what the students do willingly for North Side. We realize that this is our school and we are proud of it, and as such, we strive to uphold the ideals that will continue its progress in our eyes and in the eyes of the community.

Keeping the school neat inside and out is the job of every student, as demonstrated by Bobbi Horne and Wayne Payne (top). Students leave quickly during fire drills.

Straightening up the office records is a big job according to senior office worker Pauline Osborn.

The library is a place for quiet and peaceful study. Sherri Ehler is taking advantage of its study facilities in her continuing search for knowledge.

DAYS RUN SMOOTHLY

Senior Stubby Weaver fails to evade the long arm of the law as his credentials are checked by Officer Fred Koberman during the annual car-safety check.

To conquer the problem of filled hallways between periods courtesy and thoughtfulness are needed on the part of every student. Keeping on the right is necessary.

Good behavior in the classroom during the teacher's absence is another fine quality of Redskins. Here Mr. Sinks' General History class continues to study quietly while he is out of the room for a few minutes.

These Freshmen seem a bit confused after being given directions by John Fitch and Jim Garrard.

As soon as the yearbooks are distributed, groups such as this gather to sign each other's book for later memories.

MANY TRADITIONS

Parents are given a chance to pass classes, meet teachers, and have conferences if they wish on back-to-school night.

An old tradition has been the restriction of the main door to seniors only. All look forward to this privilege.

As has been the custom, seniors have preserved the honor of leaving assemblies first. Underclassmen wait patiently until their glorious fourth year.

As always, Get Acquainted Day again this year brought throngs of newly found friends and old ones close together by a humorous assembly, signing cards, and a dance.

FILL OUR CALENDAR

Pat Riley urges senior classmates to vote for him during the class nominating speeches preceding the election.

Shoe shining and proposing are a few of the embarrassing stunts that freshmen must perform each year before becoming full-fledged Redskins.

"Charge"! Initiated by the band this year, this cheer became quite popular with the student body at games.

The twirlers did their part this year by performing in pre-game and half-time shows.

THE SPARK OF SCHOOL SPIRIT GROWS BRIGHTER;

"We're from North Side and couldn't be prouder." This familiar cheer seems to sum up the feelings of Redskins toward the big dome. The strong feeling of pride for our school is known to us all as school spirit, and it plays a major and important part at North. The "spirit of 59" has given our teams the added incentive to go out and win. The spark of spirit is always there, waiting to be fed to bring forth the fire again. It may blaze forth as we cheer our teams on to victory, or smolder quietly when we join together to help the needy at Christmas.

The spirit swung into action at the first rousing pep session against our city rival, Central, picked up momentum as we swept the city football crown, and continued upward throughout the year. Each time the cheering sections resounded with the "couldn't be prouder" cheer, feeling of loyalty grew in the heart of every Redskin.

Santa was overjoyed by the generous contribution from Redskins to the Christmas Bureau this year.

Tournament time means the time to get out the old paint can and splash some school spirit onto the Redskin jalopies of some of the more enthusiastic fans.

Enthusiastic football fans became so excited that they left their seats and cheered on the side lines. Here the cheerleaders and fans rejoice as we score once again.

LOYALTY INCREASES AS THE YEAR PROGRESSES

With the assistance of Jerry Clemets' bugle, the Redskin boys held up their end of the cheering this season with their spirited block.

"We want our Redskins," rises from the crowd as loyal fans wait for our victorious city football champs.

PIZZA, CUSTOMIZING, RING EXCHANGE REMAIN POPULAR

The hula hoop craze that has covered the nation this year, hit here as well. Don Steffon lets Margo Roth demonstrate how its done as he is content to watch.

Danceskins, short skirts, and bermudas dominate the ever changing girls' wardrobes, as displayed by Pat Pence, Janet Loudermilk, Sarah Shideler, and Harriet Meek.

The smart new look in boy's sweaters has captured the Dome as exhibited by Mike McVey and Butch Snow.

WHILE HULA HOOPS, DANCESKINS, PERRY COMOS CATCH ON

Slumber parties were popular again this year as proven by this out turn for this party-before-a-slumber-party at Sherrie Moore's house. It was the usual sleepless variety.

A sentimental custom developed over the years is the ring exchange between steady couples.

Jerry Clemets shows Ron Meyers the latest improvements on his old Essex. These boys, like many others, spend their free time customizing their cars.

Dianne Brandt and Ann Stellner struggle with some pizza on their way home from a press convention at Franklin College.

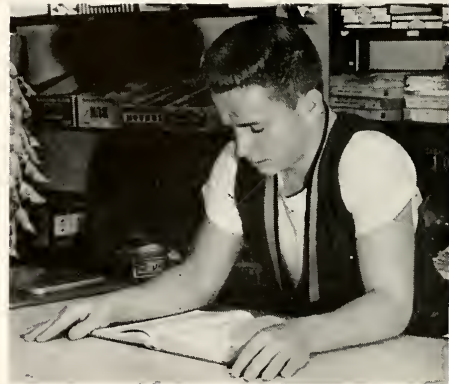

Harold Dimke seems to be interested in what Keith Davis is studying while on their way to school.

Redskins gather on the school steps to do their studies at noon or after school in the Spring and early Fall.

Polishing off that algebra problem between bites of hamburger, boning up for that grammar test on the way to school, or spending that study period wisely; these are three of the many ways in which Redskins study. These familiar scenes around North show how students take advantage of their free moments by using them for study.

Jack Arney finds time to read an essay while working at Johnnie's during his break or during a short lack of business.

WE SPEND OUR FREE TIME

John Johnson and Sue McNelley find refuge in the North-erner room, to study of course.

Suzene Gettman likes studying quietly at her desk. Her Spanish book is opened to an explanation of subjunctives.

Phyllis Hart and Judy Doebrman, ignoring the noise and confusion, study on the bus on their way home.

STUDYING IN VARIOUS PLACES

Most students use their free periods for studying in one of the study halls: 316 or the cafeteria.

Cheri Tabacoff prefers to study with apple and radio.

The Student Council officers installed all class officers. The word from our school code chosen as a topic for the speech given by each officer was "Dependability."

The senior boys aided the yell leaders at rallies now and then. Above are some salesmen for the Casey Coffin Co. A South Sider has just jumped out of the Coffin.

Mr. Richard Haupt was the guest speaker at the Lincoln-Washington Day assembly sponsored by the Helicon club.

WE LOOK FORWARD TO

Seniors did a skit called "The Viper" at one of the rallies. Here the Viper (Wayne Payne) "vipes" the floor.

A great number of Art club members participated in a very colorful spirit-arousing skit. They obtained much interest from the student body with their demonstrations of art work and eye-catching costumes. After much planning and practice, they spurred the team on to win with the use of their clever signs and ball handling.

CONVOS; PEP RALLIES INSPIRE TEAM

A Cappella sang, after hours of practice, their forty-five minute cantata.

There were two Easter assemblies, the first one being for the upperclassmen and the second for the underclassmen. The Cheerleaders brought much laughter from the crowd with a skit learned at a cheerleading convention.

Varsity Varieties, the school talent show, took place this year in April instead of earlier in the year as before. Singing, dancing, pantomiming, and skits made up the program. A group of senior boys are signing up with Mr. Purkhiser for a charleston act

To break up the routine of the school day, many activities such as the Intramural Speech Contest were presented. Eve Meyer is shown giving her winning speech in this event.

Legend staff members assisted the professional photographers in taking underclass pictures. This operation took two photographers and two days.

Accepting her recognition ribbon from Mr. Zimmerman, Sally Roberts enjoys a feeling of success.

There is a day each year when we stop to review the events and accomplishments of that year. This tradition, known as Recognition Day, takes place annually on Northrup Field. Recognition Day brings with it much sentiment, as it closes out the year for seniors, giving them their last day of recognition before leaving the Dome. For freshmen it is but the beginning of eventful years to come. The assembly follows a year of classroom work and homework, and pays off in dividends of happiness and pride.

RECOGNITION DAY BRINGS A FEELING OF SATISFACTION

Those who have received ribbons stand and are recognized by all.

This year is unique in the fact that the enrollment at North Side is the largest in its history of thirty-two years. Never again will there be such a large freshman class at the Big Dome as the result of the adoption of the 6:3:3 system next year. In spite of these crowded conditions, the four courses of study offered present a challenge to every student. Through able guidance, the interest of the student is met and channeled into the proper course. The classes are grouped according to the pupil's ability. Students are greatly rewarded, only after many hours of intense studying, with valuable knowledge and better preparation for the future. All this points up to the fact that . . .

AMATEUR SCIENTISTS SPEND MANY HOURS EXPERIMENTING

In the scientific age in which we live, science is a necessary component in the education of every student. All curriculums require at least one year of science. These courses of study, which include chemistry, physics, biology, botany, and physical geography, are designed to cover a wide and varied range of interest.

These subjects are taught with the idea that only through practice and experimentation can the student get the full value from his theory. Therefore, the sciences at North incorporate bookwork, laboratory work, and projects in their course of study. The school possesses well-equipped chemistry and physics laboratories and facilities for adequate experimentation in the other sciences. Recently, an advanced semester of biology which can be taken by students who qualify, has been introduced.

Weed collections in botany classes, radiation experiments in biology 3, and class demonstrations in chemistry, physics and physical geography are projects to further the student's knowledge in a particular phase of the subject. This work also increases the student's interest in the subject which he has chosen to study.

Mr. Lewton supervises the Biology 3 experiment conducted by Jackie Lamprecht, Mike Nahrwold, Sandy Liniger, and Jim Howard; that of using radioactive isotopes in tracer experiments.

These students in botany class show that they are really enjoying their laboratory period. Miss Thompson is ready to help anyone who has trouble with his microscope.

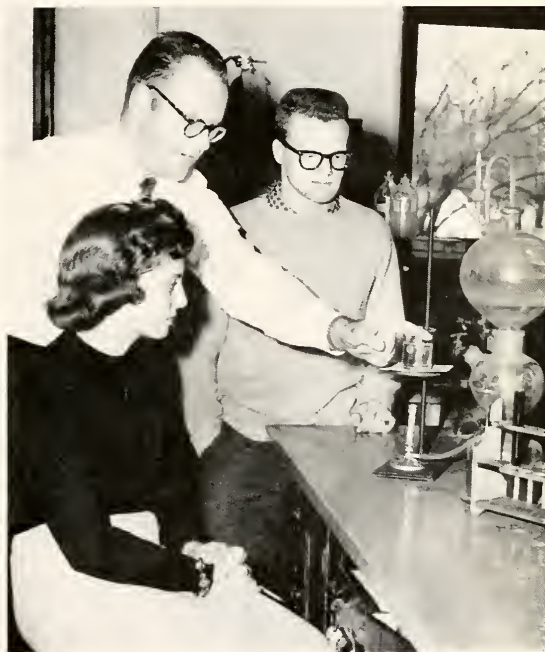

AND STUDYING ABOUT MAN'S SCIENTIFIC ACHIEVEMENTS

Demonstrating Archimedes' principle which shows the buoyant force of liquids are Ron Madden and LaMoine Motz. Mr. Pressler supervises.

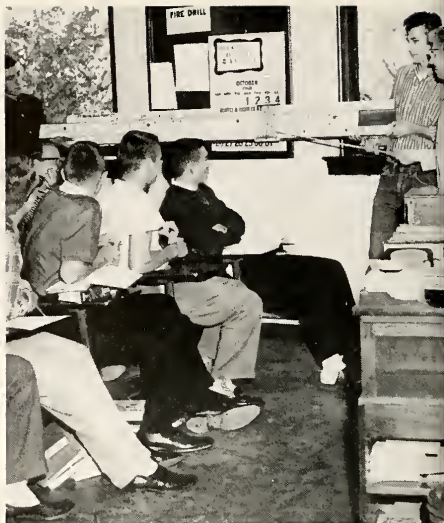

Julie Hippenstele and Bernard Kelly, both Chemistry I students, watch as Mr. Lewis explains the method of generating hydrogen sulfide gas.

Mr. Whittern explains the operation of the barograph, an instrument used to record barometric readings, to Mike Laughlin, a student in physical geography class.

The fact that mathematics plays an important part in our lives, both directly and indirectly, is clearly set forth by North Side's excellent program in this field. Freshmen are required to take one year of math. Students on the academic and business-academic courses must take algebra their freshman year and geometry in their sophomore year. After these requirements have been fulfilled, the student may take any math course he wishes. The courses relate to each other in that one course will teach the student material that will be useful in the other course. The required math of the underclassmen furnishes him with a background so that he may take the more advanced courses—algebra 3, algebra 4, solid geometry, and trigonometry.

General math is offered for those students who are not eligible for advanced math. This course gives a fundamental knowledge of everyday applicable mathematics.

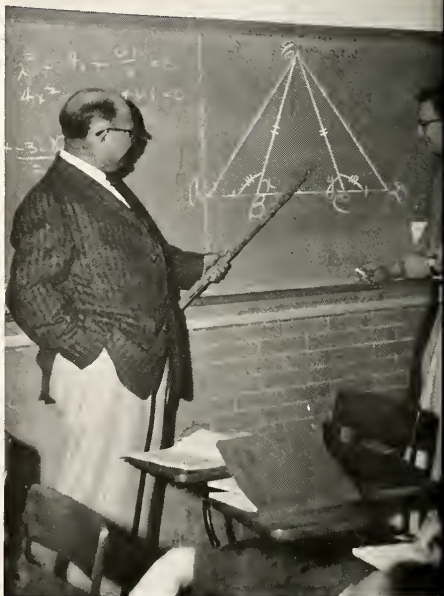

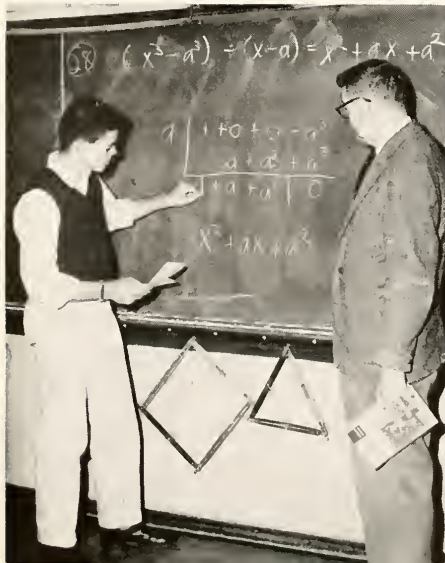

"In trig, you must learn to use the slide rule," says Miss Miller to a group of puzzled boys.

MATHEMATICS IS A PUZZLEMENT FOR MANY A REDSKIN

Mr. McNeely explains a geometrical theory about triangles.

Mr. Pennington looks on as Junior Paul Wehrenberg solves an involved problem in algebra 3 class.

HEALTH AND SAFETY TEACH US A BETTER WAY OF LIVING

Nancy Martin and Sandy Liniger examine the model of a human being that is used by the health classes.

There are many panel discussions in family living class. Here, Wayne Payne and John Johnson are engaged in a friendly discussion over the merits of going steady.

Supplementing the usual academic subjects, North Side offers a variety of courses which deal with the student's everyday problems.

To encourage safer driving, a course in driver's training is offered. This course includes classroom work and actual driving experience in the car furnished for that purpose. Girls' and boys' health attempt to better acquaint the individual with his anatomy and therefore encourage a better health program and more personal concern. Family living is designed to offer material that may help young people to gain a perspective on life adjustment as a whole through an understanding of himself and others. These courses better enable the student to succeed in the complex world in which he lives.

Mr. Kline puts his confidence in one of today's teenage drivers. A portion of the driver training class period each week is spent in the car.

YOUNG MEN AND WOMEN MAKE PREPARATIONS FOR FUTURE

Home economics students prepare a meal in its entirety.

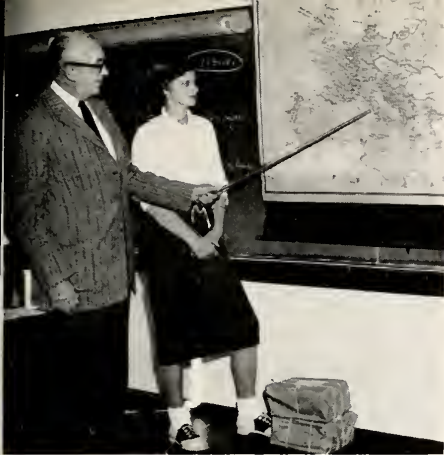

George Goeglein gets some helpful advice that should improve the quality of his drawings from Mr. Thompson.

In addition to the courses in everyday social problems, the curriculum at North Side is set up to include courses that will be useful or necessary to one's vocation. Of primary importance in the education of any student that is interested in industrial arts is the selection of his vocation, and then the selection of courses that will parallel that vocation. Industrial courses are offered at North Side in metal work, wood work, and mechanical drafting. Each course provides the student with ideas and techniques that can be applied with the other courses he may take.

Students at North Side have the opportunity of working in the home economics department. The student may choose from a great number of courses offered such as sewing, cooking, interior decorating, and home nursing. These courses—home economics and industrial arts—are designed to better aid the student for everyday life, as well as to furnish him with more self-reliance.

Looking forward to a summer of fun on the lake, John Tagtmeyer and Frank King inspect the progress being made on their water skis with the help of Mr. Edwards.

Mr. Sinks gives Barbara Allen some helpful information about the area under study in general history class.

The courses in the social science department are designed to provide the student with a basic knowledge of as many subjects as possible in this field. The purpose is to produce men and women of ideas who will help solve the problems of human relations, and create a peaceful and better world in which to live in the future.

Freshmen students may take citizenship. World history is then offered in the sophomore year. Juniors study the history of the United States. In the senior year, students will take civics—a study of government, both national and state—and economics and sociology. Economics deal with the business of making a living, and sociology studies the problems of human beings living and working together.

By understanding and having a knowledge of the subjects described above, the student can better hope to fulfill his goals in life.

OUR VIEWS AND KNOWLEDGE OF THE WORLD ARE BROADENED

Dave Schenher and Judy Robitaille talk to Dorothy Gardner, candidate for State Senator, as part of their work in civics class.

Dan Spitzberg shows his determination as he outlines another chapter for his economics notebook.

SPEECH AND DRAMATICS TEACH POISE AND CONFIDENCE

Mr. Lee seems very satisfied with the progress being made by his speech class. The students record their voices on tape so that they can hear their mistakes.

The stage craft class handles the stage properties for plays and assemblies. Bill Didier and Wayne Payne watch as Mr. Purkiser supervises the hanging of a curtain.

Dramatics class stages plays and skits. Phil Fretz seems to be in a trance while Steve Horten (on the table) awaits his fate.

Speech class is designed to help the students learn to have self-confidence, poise, and voice control. Sophomores, juniors, and seniors are eligible to take speech. In class they give declamations and speeches as well as study grammar and English. This background will be beneficial to students who are in Junior Forensic League. By entering speech contests they can accumulate points toward National Forensic League.

There is also a dramatics class where the student learns more about theater art. A class in radio and TV work acquaints the student with this medium.

Stagecraft is a class that is in charge of operation of the stage equipment during assemblies. Besides handling the stage duties for the school, the students in the class learn the important part in producing a play; that being the physical work that goes into the making of sets and other stage properties.

The North Side English department recognizes the fact that much emphasis must be placed on the learning of the English language. Therefore, well-rounded English courses are offered to the student throughout his high school career.

Freshmen spend much of their time studying grammar, but a portion of the semester is devoted to the study of Homer's Odyssey. More grammar and American literature are offered to sophomores. In the junior year the student is introduced to writing term papers. Elizabethan topics are used for the first term paper. Also in the junior year Shakespeare's Macbeth is studied.

By doing floor talks, note cards, and term papers, Seniors become acquainted with contemporary poets and authors. English 8 is required only of students on the academic course and may be elected by those who have completed English 7. Composition is emphasized in this semester.

Dennis Stewart, Carol Carroccio, Diane Cornelius, and Jon Rabus dramatize a scene from Shakespeare's Julius Caesar in their sophomore English class.

TO MASTER THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE IS OUR ULTIMATE GOAL

Miss Stirling hands back report cards to her "anxious" junior class students Jack Gaylord and Charles Feustel.

Eagerly searching for material in poetry books that can be used for their floor talks are seniors Sharon Battershell, Alan Poe, and Mike Barger.

An interested French class listens as Leslie Gaston explains about a picture that shows a street scene in Paris.

A student entering North Side may elect any one of three foreign languages. These languages—Latin, Spanish, and French—are similarly taught in as much as the curriculum in each is the same. French is offered for two years (the minimum number of years a language may be taken for credit). With the addition of the new Spanish 5 class, this language may now be taken for five semesters. Latin is offered for four years if the student desires to take it. Students on the academic and business-academic courses must take a foreign language, while other students may elect a language.

OUR FUTURE LINGUISTS ARE GIVEN THEIR LANGUAGE FOUNDATION

"Ego vexillo Unitorum . . ." recites Miss Foster to her Latin class students. She is reading in Latin part of our pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Third year Spanish is chiefly a conversational course. Here Mr. Paul Lemke reads a story in Spanish to his class.

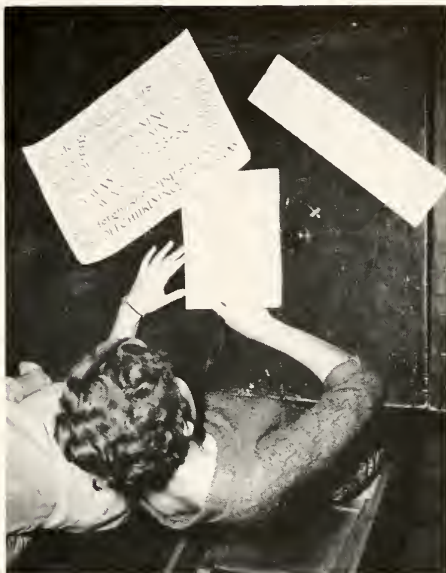

WE FIND WAYS OF EXPRESSING OUR CREATIVE ABILITY

Certain to produce a masterpiece of pottery, Mike Dafforn adds that final touch before the object will be dried and finished.

Mr. McClead lends a helping hand to Becky Harris, who seems to be having troubles with her painting, as Bill Wright and Margaret Osborn finish theirs.

When making a sign or poster, it is important to have neat and accurate lettering. Here, an art student tries to improve her lettering by patient practice.

Some individuals find enjoyment in expressing their talents in the field of art. The art department is set up to include as many different phases of art as possible. Courses include life drawing, elements of design, graphics, crafts, lettering, and ceramics.

In printing, for example, media such as water color, tempera, casein, and oils are used. Lettering is a basic requirement in commercial art. Crafts is one of the most popular courses with enameling and ceramics receiving the interest of many other art students. Art appreciation is taught with the goal of creating an understanding of art in everyday life.

THE VAST BUSINESS FIELD DRAWS MANY INTERESTED STUDENTS

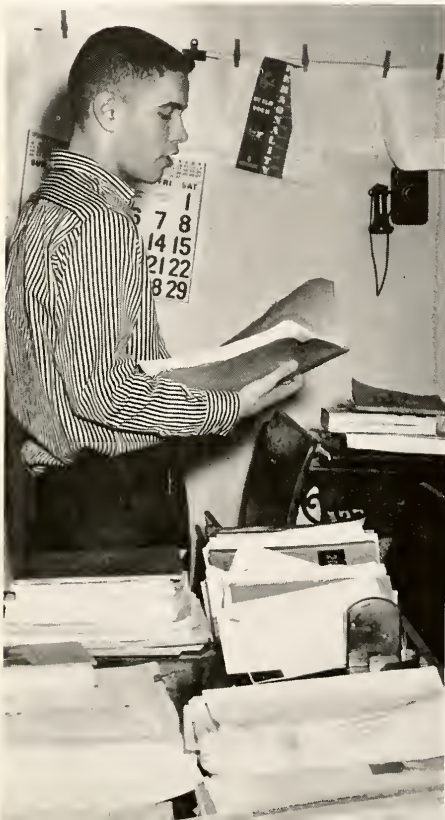

Students wishing to major in business can choose from four courses, General, Stenographic-clerical, Vocational, and Business Academic.

The Business Academic course is for those students who intend to go to college and feel they need typing and shorthand besides the required college preparatory subjects.

The General Business course is designed to help the person who may someday own or run a small business. Here the future businessman gets junior business training, business law, management and other valuable training.

The Vocational Course and the Stenographic-clerical course deal with the operation of business machines plus typing, shorthand, clerical practice, and filing.

Jim Sherron is deeply engrossed in a report he is giving in his business law class.

Mr. Mertes checks the progress of his bookkeeping class.

Miss Furst watches her typing class take another of their frequent timed tests.

Chorus class is the first step for the student entering the vocal music department. After one year, the boys go into Varsity Choir and the girls go into Girl's Choir. The boys may also join Male Choir, which meets before school twice a week. A Cappella is a much desired goal of those in this music department.

The instrumental music department consists of three parts. They are Varsity Band, Concert Band, and Orchestra. Varsity Band members may try out for Concert Band whenever there is an opening in their section.

Miss Rich leads one of the mixed chorus classes.

MUSIC GROUPS AND CLASSES HAVE VARIED PRACTICE SESSIONS

Students taking organ have one lesson and two practices a week. Susanne Blough is seen in such a practice session.

North Side has a fine orchestra under the direction of Mr. C. William Hatt. Here, the orchestra is seen in one of its practice sessions.

Supplementing the all important academic work, are many school sponsored activities. Among the many offered here, a student is limited to three clubs a semester and may hold the same major office in only one each semester. The added phase of education combines learning with recreation and provides diversified interest for stimulation. It also serves as a connecting link which brings the instructor and the pupil in closer contact, working together in activities for the benefit of all. A broadening of individual backgrounds through mutual participation in organizations, which give added incentive to our interests, help mold our lives for the future as . . .

STUDENT COUNCIL HELPS TO LEAD OUR SCHOOL

For many years, the Student Council has represented close co-operation between the students and the faculty, and has adopted several traditional undertakings. This year the Council again sponsored two war orphans and the program of giving aid to needy families during the Christmas Season. Other memorable projects of the Council are the Get Acquainted Day, Courtesy Week, and the Teens Against Polio Drive.

The North Side Safety Council is also promoted by, and established within, the Student Council. The Safety Council was organized to make the student body more aware of the need for safe and courteous drivers.

These activities, along with the numerous unseen hours put in by the Council officers in planning and preparing the meetings, helped to make this year one to remember.

RECORDING THE SPIRIT AND ACTIVITIES OF THE SCHOOL

Shown typing and filing the copy for the yearbook are Darlene Parrish and Marylin Cook, copy editors.

"Let's get to work", Mike Blombach, picture editor, seems to be saying to photographers John Knight, Curt Drew, and Martin Walter. Tom Lapp was absent.

Heading this year's Legend Staff are Dale Pontius, assistant editor, and Dianne Brandt, editor. Dianne explains how to fit copy to Janet Loudermilk, copy editor.

YEAR IS UP TO OUR CAPABLE YEARBOOK STAFF

Plans for compiling the events of "The Golden Days of 1959" began when editors Dianne Brandt and Dale Pontius attended a special two week course of instruction at Indiana University last summer. A yearbook can be successful only when it is compiled by capable editors and a dependable, co-operative, and enthusiastic staff, such as the one presenting the 1959 Legend. Phyllis Hart and Frank Rucoi headed the business staff, and they were assisted by Marla Grove, Pat L. Smith, Sue Craig, Judy Doehrman, and Sandy Liniger. Steve Fawley was editor of the activities section with John Johnson and Rosellen Messerschmidt as his assistants. Becky Harris and Elizabeth Busian worked with Bob Walters, academic section editor. Gary Tustison edited the sports section and Jim O'Brien aided him.

The head of the senior class section was Judy Johnson with Kay Pattengale assisting her. Marsha Grant was in charge of the junior section, helped by Ann Stellner. John Bentz assisted on both of these sections of the Legend. John Cooper was editor of the sophomore portion with Sherry Anderson and Stephanie Richards as his assistants. Pat A. Smith and Judy Leach worked with Suzanne McNelley, editor of the freshman section.

Jane Glock headed the faculty section and Pat L. Smith aided her. The picture editor was Jerry Leeth and Mike Blombach as his assistant. Copy editors were Marilyn Cook, Janet Loudermilk, and Darlene Parrish. Staff photographers were Curt Drew, John Knight, Tom Lapp, and Martin Walter.

(Bottom)—Shown standing around Miss Thiele for their instructions are the assistant editors who put in many hours of hard work on the staff.

(Top)—Sandy Liniger and Sue Craig, business staff members, seem to be hard at work making out slips for Senior name cards and thank you notes.

The section editors gather around the editors desk to get each others approval and opinion on their respective sections. They are relieved to be finished.

John Bentz and Carolyn Kelsey were chosen King and Queen at the Northerner Tea Dance.

Putting the finishing touches on the front page are Sherrie Reasoner and Sue Maxwell.

THE NORTHERNER REMAINS "MOUTHPIECE" OF THE

The Northerner staff presents an outstanding and eagerly awaited school paper each week. Under the direction of Miss Norma Thiele, the student Journalists enlighten pupils with articles of current news and humorous events. As a reward for their efforts, the newspaper staff and the members of the Legend received honors at the annual banquet at the Colonial Restaurant.

The Northerner has received many citations and awards. Included among these honors are the first class ratings by the National Scholastic Press Association, Quill and Scroll's international honor ratings, and the Columbia Scholastic award.

Sherrie Reasoner was editor-in-chief for both semesters. During the first semester Dick Harry was corresponding editor, Judy Rice, news editor, and Daisy Gore, assistant news editor. Sue Maxwell was feature editor, Becky Wright was assistant feature editor and circulation manager. Gary Tustison served as sports editor, and Bob Kabish was assistant sports editor. The classroom news editor was Nancy Motz, and Doug Boren, Dave Pulver, and Paul Raver were co-exchange editors. Mike Ormiston was business manager. Jim O'Brien was assistant business manager, Marilyn Zager was advertising manager, and Sue Collier was assistant circulation manager. The point recorder was Sharon McAlhaney, and Curt Drew, John Knight, and Tom Lapp were the photographers.

For the second semester, staff members were managing editor, Sue Maxwell; copy editor, Judy Rice; news editor, and Assistant news editor, Mike Ormiston. The feature editor was Daisy Gore; the assistant feature editor, Marilyn Zager, and sports editor, Bob Kabisch. Among the staff members was also Tom Biggs, assistant sports editor; Reva Berlin, classroom news editor; and co-exchange editors, Diane Cornelius, Judy Leach, and Joan Shimer. Jim O'Brien was business manager; Sherrie McKay, assistant business manager; Paul Raver, advertising manager; Dale Terry, assistant business manager; Doug Boren, circulation manager; and Bonnie Dolnick, assistant circulation manager. Janna Johnston held the position of point recorder, and the photographers were Curt Drew, John Knight, and Tom Lapp.

Anne Sosenhiemer and Judy Leach check their stories out of the assignment book.

Carolyn Kelsey, Bonnie Dolnik, Diane Cornelius, and Sharon McAlhane proof-read the Northern galleys.

STUDENTS WHILE MAINTAINING HIGH NATIONAL RATING

Working hard to set up the pages for the paper are Becky Wright, Dick Harry, Judy Rice, and Daisy Gore.

Dick Harry receives a humorous gift at the publications banquet at the Colonial Restaurant.

Miss Thiele, the advisor of the Northerner and Legend staffs, can always find time in her busy schedule to give students in the journalism department a helping hand. Her schedule includes teaching English and journalism, and counseling at the annual summer journalism institute at Indiana University.

HONORARY PUBLICATION CLUBS HELP TO CREATE INCENTIVE

In order to qualify for the honorary 1500 Club, a pupil must earn 1500 points through writing, editing, or managing for the Northerner. After receiving the bronze pin of merit, the journalists may continue to strive for higher awards. A silver pin, 3,000 points; a gold pin, 5,000 points; a letter, 7,500 points; and the foremost award, a gold jeweled pin, 10,000 points. Members of the 1500 Club are: Dianne Brandt, Doug Boren, Curt Drew, Daisy Gore, Dick Harry, Bob Kabisch, John Knight, Sue Maxwell, Nancy Motz, Mike Ormiston, Pat Parker, Paul Raver, Judy Rice, Sherrie Reasoner, Gary Tustison, Becky Wright, and Marilyn Zager.

The most coveted honor bestowed upon a high school journalism student is membership in Quill and Scroll. Only those pupils who have distinguished themselves for excellent work during a year or more may be considered for the organization. Besides achieving these high standards, prospective members must also be seniors who rank in the upper third of their class. The final decision of who may join this honorary club is made by the national executive secretary of Quill and Scroll, after pupils have been recommended by their school advisor. Members are: Dianne Brandt, Dick Harry, Sherrie Reasoner, Dale Pontius, Gary Tustison, Phyllis Hart, and Curt Drew.

National Thespians (below) is a speech and dramatics club which is composed of members who aim to create more interest in the advanced standards of dramatics. Membership in this honorary organization is awarded for recognition in the dramatic arts program.

Mr. James A. Purkhiser, a teacher of speech and dramatics at North, is the advisor of this organization.

North Side Instrumentalists (above) is an invitational organization for band and orchestra members with more than one year of service. The purpose of this organization is to further the students' interest in instrumental music. Officers elected for the year were: President, Charles Clauss; Vice-President, Sherry Mayhew; Secretary, Martha Miller; Treasurer, Bill Cunningham; Parliamentarian, Bob Vannatta.

VOCAL DEPARTMENT STRESSES QUALITY AND POISE

Under the capable direction of Miss Jeanette Rich, the vocal music department is one of which we can be very proud. Although many of the music students would probably like to go right into A Cappella, they first must acquire more training. The first step is chorus class for one year. After chorus class, they progress either to Girls' Choir, Male Choir, or Varsity Choir. From these groups the new A Cappella members are chosen.

As well as participating in the school concerts, A Cappella also gives programs outside of school, which include caroling from the Lincoln Tower, the choir trip, and various other musical engagements. The officers for this year were president, Ron Gehring; vice-president, Bob Kabisch; secretary-treasurer, Barbee Moriarty; and social chairman, Jerry Leeth. Opposite: (top)—Varsity Choir, (middle)—Girls Choir, (bottom)—Male Choir.

TRIPLE TRIO, CHANSONETTES GOAL OF VOCALISTS

Adding another touch to the North Side music department are the Chansonettes and Triple Trio. Members of both are also members of A Cappella, while the boys also belong to Male Choir. Both groups sing many types of songs from spirituals to popular tunes. Besides singing in the school programs and concerts, they also sing for other clubs and organizations outside of school. For these engagements, Chansonettes were attired in the new blue cocktail dresses, while the Triple Trio sported white dinner jackets with matching ties and cummerbunds.

Very ably assisting the groups were their accompanists Sally Elliot and Wallace Williamson. Both of these fine groups well deserve the praises that follow them wherever they go.

BAND PLAYS AT CONCERTS, GAMES, CONTESTS

"That's music to my ears," says Mr. Hatt as he directs at one of the pre-concert rehearsals.

At the annual band and twirler party, members had fun. Games and snacks highlighted the evening.

The North Side Concert Band put a note of cheer in the hearts of the basketball and football fans this year. The largest band ever, consisting of 91 members, also performed at pep sessions and furnished music for the twirlers and civic parades. Many members entered solo and ensemble contests and won high honors.

Under the direction of Mr. C. William Hatt, the band's repertoire delighted concert audiences and provided students with a greater knowledge of music literature. Governing the band is a body known as the band board. It is made up of first chair members. Officers of the band were as follows: President, Larry May; Vice President, Dick Graef; and Secretary, Sherry Mayhew.

The North Side Concert Band, with over ninety-one members, is shown in concert formation. This group proved to be a fine credit to the school and provided audiences with many entertaining moments.

The Varsity Band members spent many hours of practice, working for a chair in the concert band. They also prepared numbers for their various concerts throughout the year.

VARSITY BAND TRAINS MEMBERS FOR FUTURE

Varsity Band, led by Mr. C. W. Hatt, is made up of students, primarily freshmen, who someday would like to be able to play in the Concert Band. In essence, it is a training ground for future varsity band members. Its major function, other than to provide the Concert Band with new talent, is to give the members experience in ensemble playing. After proving themselves in Varsity Band the members then progress to Concert Band.

The colorful half-time exhibitions at our athletic functions are a success due largely to the efforts of the North Side Majorettes. Delightful costumes, varied routines, and precision twirling have entertained many Redskin fans during the past year. Nancy Martin, head majorette, with the assistance of Mr. C. W. Hatt, has been primarily responsible for the extreme success of this group of twirlers.

The orchestra not only brought satisfaction to the student body, but also to the community by giving several public performances.

ORCHESTRA STRESSES CLASSICS AND SYMPHONIES

The North Side Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. C. W. Hatt, continued its fine record of outstanding performances. This year, the orchestra played at such memorable events as the Senior Play, back to school night, and the season concerts. Members also performed at the Irene Byron and the Veteran's hospitals.

Music students, whose love and appreciation of the beauty of music have led them to take an active part in North Side's orchestra, have helped the organization to grow and better itself. To help satisfy this interest in music the orchestra members studied classical music literature and entire symphonies.

During the year, string members organized as a symphonetta. The orchestra, this year elected Jerry Hoffman as president.

Practice makes perfect is the password of the North Side orchestra, as illustrated by these hard-working members.

"Pianissimo please," Mr. Hatt seems to be saying as he directs the orchestra during one of their fourth period rehearsals.

BOOSTER CLUB GIVES "SKINS" CHANCE TO SERVE

Booster club is one of our oldest clubs, having been formed in 1927. During its long history, it has established itself as one of the fine school service clubs at North.

The purpose of this organization is to help increase the school spirit and to maintain the high ideals of North Side. In order to increase the morale of the Redskins, the members sell badges, shakers, and other ornaments to the students prior to sectional time. This, along with their usual selling of refreshments at all of our home games, helps to finance the activities of this club.

As a reward for their outstanding work in Booster Club this year, Karen Knispel and Gary Brubake received letters. The sponsor of this organization is Mr. Noel Whittner and Elaine Rousseau presides at meetings.

The Camera Club was founded several years ago for the sole purpose of giving Redskins the opportunity to take, print, and enlarge pictures. Many interesting meetings were planned this year, and the members spent much of their time developing and perfecting their talents. This club has many worthwhile plans for the future. They hope to be able to run a movie theater in the school auditorium for the students to watch during their lunch hour. The club has recently written a new constitution. The officers helped the club to be successful in 1959. The officers for the year were: president, John Knight; vice-president, Stanley Rowe; secretary-treasurer, Jill Kinley; membership chairman, Pat Borner; dark-room manager, Karl Pfister. The advisor of the club was Mr. Henderson.

KEY CLUB HELPS MOLD CITIZENS OF TOMORROW

To develop initiative and leadership is the purpose of the North Side Key Club. Key Club is a school service club sponsored by the Northeast Kiwanis Club of Fort Wayne. Membership in the club is open to any sophomore, junior, or senior upon the recommendation and approval of the club members.

Sam Schoepke, temporary chairman of fourth period Key Club, and guests from Northeast Kiwanis seem to be enjoying their meeting.

The projects for this year were the publication of the North Side Key, and the sponsoring of the dance after the Sectional track meet.

The officers, under the supervision of Mister Glen Bickel were Steve Fawley, president; David Bash, vice-president; Terry Bashlier, secretary-treasurer; and John Johnson, sergeant-at-arms.

Junior Forensic League (below) is open to all freshmen and sophomores interested in speech. The purposes for this club is to stimulate further interest in speech and to promote better speech among the underclassmen. The club advisor is Mr. Stanley Lee. The officers for this year included president, Cheryl Tabacoff; vice-president, Wallace Williamson; and secretary-treasurer, Carol Carroccio.

HI-Y DEVELOPES, MAINTAINS HIGH STANDARDS

Hi-Y is a high school branch of the Young Men's Christian Association and is affiliated with the state and national Hi-Y organizations. It is a Christian organization which strives to promote high standards of moral character throughout the school and community.

Hi-Y carries on various projects to raise money for the club as well as participating in an annual World Service Drive. They also sponsored an after-game dance, "Cut Rate Capers IV." Mr. John Malott is again this year the club's sponsor. Leading the club this year were president, John Johnson; vice-president, Wayne Payne; secretary, Dale Pontius; treasurer, Paul Erwin; chaplain, Bill Trulock; and sergeant-at-arms, Kirby McKissick.

Mr. Malott and club members listen attentively as the president tells of the new business to be discussed.

Officers John Johnson and Dale Pontius "casually" plan a future meeting. They feel that their minds function better when they are relaxed.

Polar-Y is an affiliate of the Young Womens Christian Association. This organization strives to maintain the high Christian ideals of the student of North Side. The members had an enjoyable year with the many interesting activities that the club sponsored. Among the activities were an after-game dance and a potato chip sale. The members of Polar-Y also made small baskets of favors that were distributed among the children at Parkview

Memorial Hospital. The club, under the advisership of Miss Lorraine Foster and Miss Marjorie Bell, completed a very successful year under the leadership of the following officers. For the first semester; president, Nancy Starkel; vice-president, Sharon Battershell; sec-treasurer, Pam Friend. For the second semester; president, Sharon Battershell; vice-president, Sherry Hatfield; and sec-treasurer, Pam Friend.

JUNIOR RED CROSS SERVES COMMUNITY WELL

Junior Red Cross is a school service club which acts as a co-ordinator between the school and the American Red Cross. The members of J. R. C. are available to assist local authorities in the event of an emergency. Each year the club undertakes several activities. During the past year, on the Junior Red Cross calendar was the Valentine Dance, which was held in the North Side cafeteria.

Each year Junior Red Cross participates in many activities for the benefit of the aged and the underprivileged. They also aid the hospitals of Fort Wayne by helping in various charitable ways.

Much of the success of Junior Red Cross is due to the assistance of the advisors, Mrs. Alice Nusbaum and Mr. Charles Clark. Under the able supervision of these advisors, the officers helped to lead the Junior Red Cross to another successful year. The officers for 1959 were as follows, president, Barbee Moriarty; vice-president, John Cooper; secretary, Becky Harris; treasurer, Sharon Wehrle; and social chairman, Sally Pickering.

Making P.A. announcements for future meetings and other club functions had to be done often. Here Barbee Moriarty tells club members that a scheduled meeting has been postponed.

EDUCATORS OF TOMORROW EXPLORE THE FUTURE

Future Teachers of America is an organization of students which attempts to cultivate the interest and abilities of its members in the educational field. This is done through speakers on education, and panel discussions.

Members of this organization can also further their interest by substituting in classrooms around the dome, when the regular teacher is temporarily unavailable.

Social activities for the year included an after game dance and the annual F.T.A. Christmas party.

Much of the credit for this year is due to the guidance of Mrs. Maryann Chapman, and Mr. Elmer J. Franzman. These two, along with the officers, helped to guide F.T.A. to a successful year. Officers for the year were as follows: for the second semester; president, Jane Glock; vice-president, Kay Pattengale; secretary, Mary Ann Tegtmeyer; treasurer, Pam Barnum; and parliamentarian, April McCreary.

Linda Olinger seems to be enjoying her opportunity to substitute in place of a regular teacher.

PHY-CHEM OFFERS ACTIVITIES FOR "SCIENTISTS"

Phy-Chem, which is devoted to the interest and advancement in the fields of Physics and Chemistry, is open in membership to anyone who is taking either of these classes. Demonstrations, along with speeches and discussions on the scientific field help the members to widen their interests in this field. The meetings of this club were held in rooms 236 and 235. The outstanding activity of the club this year was the after game dance held in the cafeteria. It was at this dance that the world's newest element was disclosed in the person of Mr. Harold Thomas. Mr. Thomas, along with Mr. Sherman Pressler, serve as advisors for the organization. Officers for the year were as follows: For the first semester; president, Paul Wehrenberg; vice-president, John Cooper; secretary, Sue Mc-Nelley; and treasurer, Bob Walters. For the second semester; president, Mike Ormiston; vice-president, Roy Strohl; secretary, Carolyn Kelsey; and treasurer, Paul Wehrenberg.

NATURE CLUB SEEKS NATURE'S HIDDEN SECRETS

The North Side Biological Society is the new name of the former Nature Club. This club, however, still enables its members to gain a better understanding of the out-of-doors and wild life. When weather does not permit the members to conduct their field trips and hikes, films and projects keep them very busy. They have such films as one entitled "Open Heart Surgery," and their projects have included various nature hobbies. Besides the club's new name, it also has a new constitution and a club song written by their president. The officers for this year were president, Wallace Williamson; vice-president, James Howard; secretary-treasurer, Carol LaHurreau; and publicity chairman, Kathy Kriegh. The club is under the supervision of Miss Thompson.

J. C. L. CREATES CURIOSITY IN ROMAN CULTURE

Any student enrolled in a Latin class may join Junior Classical League. The club belongs to a national organization of classical clubs. Its purpose is to give students a better understanding and appreciation of the Roman civilization, language, literature, and art. This organization at North always has a Christmas party with the Modern Language Club in December and a picnic with them in the Spring. Advising the club are Miss Judith Bowen, Miss Lorraine Foster, and Mrs. Marjorie Spoolstra.

The Roman party where all club members dressed up in togas and the like was enjoyed by all. They even sat on the floor to eat. A Roman play was also given at one of the meetings.

First semester officers were president, Sandy Adams; vice-president, Becky Wright; secretary, Sandy Cooper; and treasurer, Barbara Allen. President, Pam Friend; vice-president, Mike Narwald; secretary, Sandy Cooper; and treasurer, Bill Buesching lead during the second semester.

Sandy Cooper, Carol Carroccio, Linda Lutton, Pat Parker, Paul Raver, and Bill Benninghoff spend some of their free time planning the next J.C.L. meeting.

LANGUAGE STUDENTS PURSUE THEIR INTERESTS

Modern Language Club is made up of students taking Spanish and French who have a B average or better. The members are lead by Miss Francis Plummanns, Mr. Paul Lemke, and Miss Ellen Rowe. Further study of European countries, especially Spain and France, is encouraged in this organization. Programs consist of outside speakers, movies, plays, reports, and skits. This year Miss Hoffman showed the slides from her trip. Also, one of the members gave a talk on Mardi Gras. The after game dance sponsored by this club was called 'Reservation Romp.' On Recognition Day a medal is awarded to the student who is the most outstanding in Spanish and French.

Officers for the first semester were president, Ron Madden; vice-president, John Cooper; secretary, Jane Coleman; and treasurer, Jeanette Sherbondy. During the second semester the leaders were: president, Mary Beth Schaub; vice-president, Ellen Schaper; secretary, Stevie Richards; and treasurer, Joyce Richhart.

Janet Beck, Mary Beth Schaub, and Jeanette Sherbondy leaf through some books searching for ideas for the program for the next Modern Language Club meeting.

Before the meeting begins, members have a few minutes to talk over the events of the day.

The endeavor of Globetrotters is to stimulate interest in the world—its lands, customs, peoples, and governments. For this reason, guest speakers present travelogues and timely discussions.

The membership of Globetrotters is made up of students who have shown interest and capability in the social science department, and who have received a recommendation from one of their social science teachers.

Through the guidance of Mr. Harry Young and Miss Katherine Rothenberger, this club sponsors the biennial trip to New York City and Washington, D. C., and provides transportation to the polls on election day. Other projects are a Christmas party, and the spring picnic. First semester officers were: president, Tom Shoaff; vice-president, John Cooper; secretary, Sandy Liniger; and treasurer, John Johnson. The second semester officers were president, Dan Spitzberg; vice-president, Wayne Payne; secretary, Becky Harris; treasurer, Cam Newby; and social chairman, Tom Shoaff.

DAFFY DABBLERS PURSUE THEIR ART INTERESTS

Daffy Dabblers is the new art club. Although there was an art club at North before, it was discontinued and now the Dabblers have taken its place. The object of the club is to promote more art appreciation. The members have the permanent job of decorating the halls at Christmas time. Under the capable direction of their advisors, Miss Marjorie Bell and Mr. Don McClead, this year has been a very busy and interesting one for the Dabblers. Some of the highlights of the year were making various decorations for the yuletide season, touring the WANE Television Station and the WPTA Television Station, and selling members' art work during the Spring. Serving the club during its first year were: Sally Henry, president; Kay Regedanz, vice-president; and Janet Beck, secretary-treasurer.

Kay Regedanz and Anne Socenheimer put the finishing touches on the Christmas decorations around the "Big Dome". These decorations did much to put the school into the Christmas spirit.

YOUTH FOR CHRIST DEVOTES TIME TO RELIGIOUS PURSUITS

The officers for the first semester of the new North Side Youth For Christ Club are, from left to right, Cathy Andrews, Doris Miller, Pat Burns, and Rex Cecil. These officers helped lead the club to a successful first year.

The Youth For Christ, one of the newer clubs at North Side, is a non-denominational organization. The purpose of this club is to offer Christian fellowship to the teenagers. With the assistance of their advisors, Mrs. Feters and Mrs. Dare, the programs and activities of the year were interesting and educational. The programs consisted of a series of Moody Science Films plus an interesting and educational sermon from science.

The highlights of the year's activities were the Spring Banquet plus all the conventions and rallies. Leading the club during the first semester were: Patty Burns, president; Doris Miller, vice-president; Kathleen Andrews, secretary; Kent Cecil, treasurer; and Susan Harter, reporter. Officers for the second semester were: Patty Burns, president; Doris Miller, vice-president; Janice Borntragen, secretary; Kent Cecil, treasurer, and James Arney, reporter.

As their theme for the year they chose: "I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ; for it is the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth." Romans 1:16

HELICON FURTHERS INTEREST IN LITERATURE

The aim of Helicon is to increase and enrich the knowledge and interest of its members in the field of literature. Each semester a theme is selected towards which the students will direct their interests.

This year Helicon took an active part in the activities at the Dome. These activities included such events as the Christmas party at the Allen County Infirmary, the annual Spring Tea, and the annual Senior Farewell.

Leading Helicon in an interesting and successful year were the following officers for the first semester: president, Janet Loudermilk; vice-president, Barbee Moriarty; secretary, Sarah Shideler; treasurer, Alan Poe; and for the second semester: president, Phil Retchless; vice-president, Alan Poe; secretary, Kay Pattengale; treasurer, Sarah Shideler. The sponsors are Miss Mabel Greenwalt and Miss Mildred Huffman.

Judy Rice, Steve Fawley, Becky Harris, and Sandy Cooper practice before going to the infirmary.

North Side's teaching staff this year reached an all time high of 89. Out of the 14 new educators, one is a Redskin graduate. The duties of the faculty, outside of their daily classes, include classroom preparation, grading papers, making up tests, carrying out homeroom responsibilities, attending meetings, and supervising extra-curricular activities. The interests of the teachers extend beyond the school. Some devote their free time to church work, hobbies, various clubs, and civic activities. In addition to these, many faculty members have family responsibilities, and also attend meetings and conventions in order to improve their teaching methods. These Redskin intelligentsia often go far beyond their call of duty. They devote many hours as class and club sponsors, as ushers, and as chaperones at school activities.

Teachers Are t

Faculty

Mr. Aaron T. Lindley, who is the Superintendent of the Fort Wayne Community Schools, is well-known and liked by faculty, students, and parents as well. Along with performing his duties of providing an efficient administration, he also speaks on many occasions at our public schools.

North Side's Parent Teachers Association is a very active group which each year presents an excellent educational program for the parents. Annually the P.T.A. sponsors a dance for the Redskins. The leaders for the past year were: (left to right) Mrs. Cook, treasurer; Mr. Bickel, second vice president; Mrs. Brubaker, president; Mrs. Ungerer, secretary; and Mrs. Bade, first vice president.

The P.T.A. has many projects throughout each year. Each project requires many hours of various types of work. These ladies are shown stamping envelopes, one of the smaller jobs that makes our P.T.A. so successful.

CHIEF ROBERTSON MAINTAINS HIGH ADMINISTRATIVE IDEALS

Graduation is one of the final duties that Mr. Robertson performs before the close of the school year. Here he is seen donning his gown in preparation for this event.

Mr. O. Dale Robertson, the Chief of our Redskin Tribe, is now bringing to a close his sixth year as Principal of North Side. His responsibilities are time consuming, strenuous, and varied.

His day starts before many of us leave the house and ends many hours after the ringing of the last bell. He is responsible for administering a school of over two thousand students. Throughout the long school day he performs such duties as: giving morning announcements, counseling parents and students, conducting faculty meetings, supervising Student Council, and attending extra-curricular activities. These activities keep him very busy, for during the week and also on week-ends he often attends plays, concerts, banquets, sports events, or special social functions. Mr. Robertson is continually busy but he certainly does his job well.

Lillian Graham, Mr. Robertson's secretary, and Miss Mary Waller, secretary for Miss Gross, help to keep North Side functioning properly throughout the year. Their friendliness and helpfulness are greatly appreciated by all Redskins. Mr. Robertson is often relaxing among his family, and in his office talking on the phone, a duty that consumes much of his time.

DEANS PROVIDE VAST,

North and its loyal Redskins are to be very proud of their Dean of Girls. Miss Victoria Gross is one person appreciated and well-liked by the hundreds of students she guides annually. She is never too busy to lend an ear and help solve our big and little problems each day. Her courtesy, diplomacy, and kindness will be remembered for many years to come. She is truly a friend and guide to all.

ESSENTIAL GUIDANCE PROGRAM

Mr. Bill Anthis is our energetic Guidance Director and Dean of Boys. His closest contacts are with boys, but his guidance programs reach all students. Such programs are interesting and are designed to make every Redskin a better student and person throughout his high school career and future years. Although he has been here for only two years, his excellent work and influence are here to stay.

Squeezed between the Big Dome's walls are many students. They represent either the freshman, sophomore, junior, or senior class. As a year begins, the poor freshmen are given a thorough once-over. They have to adjust quickly to the size of North, their lost feelings, and the more difficult studies. Sophomores do not attract as much attention as when they are freshmen, nor do they have any authority as an upperclassman. They just continue to adjust and advance. The Junior class has a wonderful opportunity to culture a sense of responsibility, from often being chosen to serve as club officers and chairmen of committees. The almighty Seniors have a great responsibility. In many instances they set the pace followed by hundreds. Together they feel that—

VALEDICTORIAN

Paulann Hosler

SALUTATORIAN

Lynn Rosenbaum

PAULANN HOSLER, LYNN ROSENBAUM MAINTAIN HIGHEST AVERAGES

Valedictorian, Paulann Hosler has worked very hard to obtain, through her four years in high school, the average that makes her rank highest in the class of 1959. Not only was Paulann top scholar in her class, but she also participated in many extra activities in and out of school. She was the chairman of the city and state board that promoted the polio campaign and also a member of the Fort Wayne Country Club. In school, Paulann was President of her sophomore class, a member of Student Council, A Cappella, Helicon, Globetrotters, Northern, Junior Red Cross, Modern Language Club, and Junior Forensic League. The Valedictorian plans to attend Indiana University next Fall.

Salutatorian, Lynn Rosenbaum worked equally hard to obtain her high honor. Lynn, as well as Paulann, attended Forest Park grade school. Not only does Lynn rank high scholastically, but she is also well-liked by everyone and a friend to all. During her high school career, Lynn won many speech awards. She is very interested in acting, art and music. Lynn attended the United Nations mock general assembly at Manchester College and was also a representative at Purdue University. She is planning to be a teacher and will attend Indiana University also. At North Side Lynn has been a member of Helicon, Globetrotters, Junior Red Cross, A Cappella, Northern, and Junior and National Forensic Leagues.

FORTY-TWO SENIORS MAKE FOUR YEAR HONOR ROLL

To honor those students who have been successful in attaining the goal for which all students should strive, an overall scholastic average of ninety percent or better, an assembly was given in the auditorium, April 15. Dr. Sylvia Bowman, assistant professor of English at Indiana University Center and a former publications and English teacher at North Side, presented a most inspiring speech to the juniors and seniors, giving them advice on the future. At the second assembly for freshmen and sophomores, Darlene Parish and Steve Henry spoke on the importance of good grades in high school.

Those seniors who maintained a ninety percent average through diligent study and hard work for four years and therefore made the four year honor roll are: (Front row) Marilyn Cook, Janet Loudermilk, Darlene Snyder, Karen White, Jane Glock, Lynn Rosenbaum, Paulann Hosler, Judy Keirns, Jane Coleman, Barbara Carey, Jean Doughty, and Darlene Parrish; (row 2) Dianne Brandt, Sarah Shideler, April McCreary, Margo Musselman, Janet McArthur, Barbee Moriarity, Suzanne McNelley, Bev Beck, Judy Comer, Elaine Artman, Sherrie Reasoner, Susan Harwood, Jeanette Sherbondy, Mary Beth Schaub, and Karen Knispel; (row 3) Kay Notestine, Steve Henry, Dan Spitzberg, Gene Altekruze, Jerry Leeth, Bob Walters, Dick Harry, Larry Fair, Phil Retchless, Lincoln Schrock, and Doris Miller. Absent were: Larry Dominy, Becky Haught, Gary Tustison, and Janet Shondelmayer. Four of these members qualified without having attended North for four years, they are: Darlene Parrish, Janet Schondelmayer, Lincoln Schrock, and Elaine Artman.

Senior class advisors were, Front row: Miss Spoolstra, Miss little, Miss Rich, Miss Thompson; Row 2: Mr. McClead, Mr. Lee, Mr. Lewton, Mr. Ott. Those absent when the picture was taken are: Miss Huffman, Mr. Malott, Miss Miller, Mrs. Nusbaum, Mr. Purkhiser, Mr. Zimmerman.

OFFICERS, ADVISORS PLAN '59 ACTIVITIES

SENIORS TRAVEL AROUND THE WORLD

Jennie, the beggar, once again asks Fogg for some money after being insulted by Passpartout.

Last November, audiences were magically transported from England to the savage jungles of India to the Wild West of the United States. They were watching "Around the World in 80 Days" presented by the class of '59. The production was ably directed by Mr. James Purkhiser, and the music and choreography were under the supervision of Mr. C. William Hatt.

The play was filled with excitement, humor, color, mystery, suspense, and romance. A large cast included a variety of characters from British bankers and beggars to Hindu dancers. The plot concerned rich Mr. Fogg and his valet, Passpartout, as they encountered many obstacles in their effort to go "Around the World in 80 Days."

Passpartout was arrested because he was found running through an Indian temple with his shoes on.

While in India, Fogg watches the Princess Aouda being carried to the fire to be burned as a sacrifice.

IN FIVE ACTS, THIRTEEN SCENES

Everyone interested in Fogg's adventure around the world buys a paper from the newsman to see how he is progressing.

Fogg takes his pretty Indian princess home with him.

The stage crew worked very hard to get the play set up.

Much excitement was aroused on the train when Fogg and the Colonel were playing cards and Passepartout told the Colonel how to play.

Larry Lopshire had many visitors at the hospital at the beginning of the year. He was welcomed back to school the second semester.

At the after prom parties and at dances, Redskins still did the stroll. Darlene Snyder and Pat Riley lead their line.

While seniors are eagerly awaiting the results of their class election, Barb Barker and Mike Blombach count votes.

"Syonara"—Goodbye was the theme of the senior banquet which took place at Cutter's Chalet. Speakers and talent highlighted the program.

JUNIORS

After holding rallies, hanging posters, and presenting campaign speeches, we elected our Junior class officers. Seated here are Judy Rice, Secretary-Treasurer; Jack Hallenbeck, President; Bill Cunningham, Vice-President; and Bob Vannatta, Chairman of the Social Council discussing plans for "Rainbow Rhapsody," the highlight of the Junior year. Mr. Elmer Franzman was the chairman of the Junior class advisers.

SOPHOMORES

Having finished their second year at the dome, the class of '61 is well on its way to a wonderful four years at North. The sophomore party, "One Crazy Night," was a record hop and talent show. The officers of the class were: Dave Clark, president; Pat Pence, vice-president; Jack Smith, secretary-treasurer; and Thomas Barker, chairman, and Skip Tanner on the social council. The class sponsors were the sophomore home room teachers.

SOPHOMORES

Mr. James Lewinski is congratulated for his performance in "Cyrano" by one of his English classes. The students are presenting him with some friendly gifts.

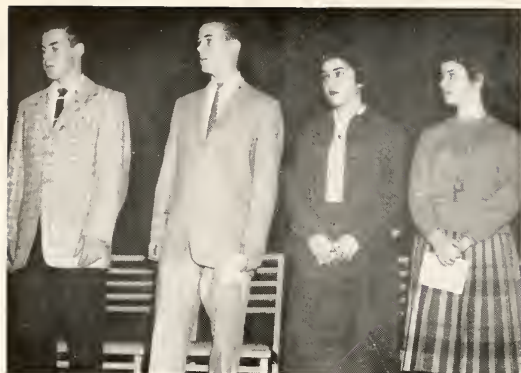

Phil Roth, Tom Lapp, John Griffith, and Jack Smith take advantage of the hot summer months by taking a dip in a neighbor's swimming pool.

Several of the sophomore boys seem to be enjoying the dancing of Karyn Bobay at their class party, "One Crazy Night." The program was a talent show.

Brad Bendure and Stevie Richards help guide Mr. and Mrs. Albert Spitzberg to one of son Dan's classes at North Side's annual Back-to-School night.

FRESHMEN

Freshman class officers, Bill Kelly, president; Jim Roberts, vice-president; Sherry McKay, secretary-treasurer; and Patty Hudson, social chairman were elected in January after the freshman B's arrived. Their party took place in the late Spring and was called "Getting to Know You."

Judy Leach, Myron Haines, and Patty Hudson are first in line to buy their sectional tickets for the basketball tournament, helping us sell over our quota.

Twins, Sandra and Sue Brown prove that they really don't need a mirror because they can just look at each other.

Like many other students, Tom Garmen and Sylvia Grant spend time in the library during their free periods and after school. Here students study or do some leisure reading.

Sherry McKay awaits that call from someone special.

Our genuine school spirit highlighted this year's sports events. From this spirit displayed in cheering blocks and by vigorous individuals, come inspiring performance of the Redskin teams. The football team's capturing of the city championship, and the successful records of the track team did not over shadow our other sports. We are to be equally proud of the basketball, tennis, and cross-country's enthusiastic exhibitions. All of these players worked tirelessly before as well as during their games and meets. The coaches and their assistants devoted many hours of work to produce teams such as these. The spectators gained from these games a better understanding of fair play, cooperation and integrity. In appreciation of the enrichment sports gave to our year,

We Supported the

Sports

BRUICK'S LAST SEASON CLIMAXED BY

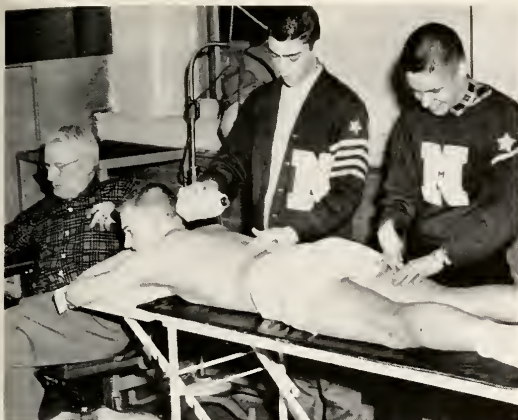

A tired but satisfied Redskin team leaves the floor after the hard fought Concordia game which was our first city win in three years.

Highlighted by victories over South Bend Central, Riley, Concordia, and in the Holiday Tournament, the Redskin basketball team finished the season with seven victories and fourteen defeats.

The Red and White featured a fine shooting and ball handling club whose weakness fell in defense. The height was provided by senior center Mike Dafforn and forwards Al Tew, Jack Hallenback, and Ron Latham. The backcourt squad was extremely strong with senior Pat Riley and juniors Jim Lang, Larry Soucie, Tom Lindenberg, and Karl Zimmerman.

The season had its share of thrills for Redskin followers. After an opening win over Hartford City, competition stiffened and victories came hard. The overtime loss to Central was heartbreaking, but spirits were boosted by twin victories in the Holiday Classic. The play throughout the rest of the season was spotty, improving at the finish with a major upset over the South Bend Central Bears following our first City Series win in three years over Concordia. The Redskins stumbled early in the Sectional to a rugged Huntertown squad to complete the season.

Coach Don Bruick announced his resignation at the end of the season following five years as head basketball coach. He will be succeeded by By Hey, who will have seven of the tournament squad returning.

With the supervision of John Peterink, George Peregoy and Steve Bergoff took good care of the athletes this year.

With their experience, cool play, and determination, seniors Pat Riley and Mike Dafforn paced this year's squad. Pat's ball handling and Daf's pivot work and rebounding formed a one-two punch on the hardwood.

Expecting a close game, the Redskins go through their warm up drills and practice their various shots.

Pat Riley battles for the tip against an equally eager foe in hard fought City Series contest.

Going high for a lay up is junior guard Larry Soucie, who proved that he will be valuable next year.

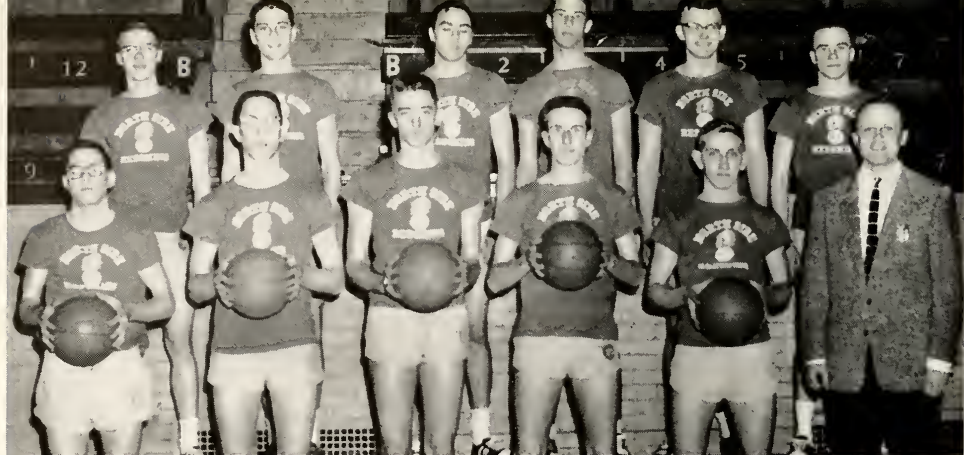

Jack Hallenback gets set to feed Jim Lang for a fast working successful play and two points. It was teamwork and speed like this which enabled North to beat teams like South Bend Central, Riley, and Concordia throughout the campaign.

Eluding the defense, high scoring guard Jim Lang drives under for an easy shot. Only a junior, Jim was the high scorer of this year's squad and will return next year.

During a time-out period, Coach Bruick and his assistants review the mistakes and plan the strategy for the game. The team takes a deserved rest while the managers provide them with towels and water.

HEY'S BOYS PROVE ABILITY

Defeating a tough Michigan City five proved one of the major accomplishments for North's Reserve squad. This victory, together with eight others, pushed by Hey's boys above the five hundred mark, as they dropped eight. In city competition, the Redskins broke even in six starts.

FUTURE CAGERS IMPRESSIVE

Mr. Wade Fredrick coached his team to an 11-8 season. The Frosh did not look too good at the beginning of the season, but as time progressed so did the boys. The team broke even in out of town games, but got set on their heels by city foes. Several of the city losses were by close scores however, and the team showed both drive and spirit. They will be a much improved ball club come 1959-1960 season.

Coach Wade Fredrick is shown here briefing Jim Hoar on the strategy for an upcoming game. This careful planning and much effort payed off in victories for the Frosh as they enjoyed a successful season.

GRIDDERS DEFEAT IRISH;

Coach Bob Cowan's last edition of the gridiron classic recaptured the City Title this year after sharing it with Central and Central Catholic last season.

This championship team was built around a nucleus of nine starting seniors, including all city players Jerry Leeth, Mike Dafforn, and Warren Bullard. Other seniors were Pat Riley, Steve Fawley, Bob Hyndman, and Dean Thomas.

North's attack was spotty throughout the campaign. While the gridders were up for the city games, they had hard luck with the conference foes.

After many successful seasons at North, Coach Cowan announced his resignation. He will be succeeded by Charles Meyers of Huntington.

The 58 gridders were honored by the selection of three senior members to the All-City football squad. They are from left to right, M. Dafforn, W. Bullard, and J. Leeth.

RESERVES AND FROSH WORK FOR THE FUTURE

The future football team will be one with a fighting spirit. The reserve team, (above), coached by By Hey, had a record of 3 wins, 3 losses, and 1 tie. They defeated city teams South Side and Central, and tied Concordia. The boys on the squad had the skill and desire that it takes to be on a winning team and will be of great help to next year's Varsity squad.

The Freshman team (below) compiled a record of 2 wins and 2 losses. These boys who are prospects for North's future Varsity squad, were coached by Don Bruick and By Hey. The squad was ready and able to play each game to their best ability. Defeating New Haven and South Side, these boys gained valuable experience by playing on the squad, and should be beneficial to future teams.

TEAM BACKED BY ENTHUSIASTIC CHEER BLOCKS

The Girls Cheering Block was under the direction of Mrs. Weber and the Varsity Cheerleaders. They chose as their uniforms for this year: red collars, cuffs, ties, and white gloves to go with their long-sleeve, white blouses and dark skirts. Many routines were worked up such as "All American Team" and "Give Me The Beat." For the tournament they added headbands and pom poms for color.

Senior and Junior boys organized a cheering block again this year. These boys got together and added some of their original cheers to the spirit that helped our players on the hardwood turn in sparkling performances and gain victories.

Although these fellows had no faculty advisors they worked on their own to boost school spirit.

The Varsity Yell Leaders begin practice early in the year.

The Varsity Cheerleaders practiced much and attended camp last summer, where they were taught to use big definite motions and took first place. The peppy girls worked hard on new yells such as "Yum Yum", and sponsored a dance to buy the new red and white skirts and white sweaters while red vests with their names on the back were made. With Darlene Snyder as their captain, the energetic gals backed the Redskins at every game.

The Reserve Cheerleaders are a group of girls who cheer for the Reserve home games and are training for Varsity Cheerleading. They work under the Varsity Yell Leaders, substituting when one of them is absent and carrying the North Side Banner out at the beginning of each game. They are also members of the Cheering Block and usually cheer at the pep sessions. Peg Tomlinson was selected by them as captain.

RESERVES—Sally Pickering, Peggy Thomlinson, Phyllis Born, Darlene Beldon, Joyce Clay.

Our school is most fortunate in having such a fine coach as Mr. Rolfe Chambers. His amazing records and fine teams are proof enough of this.

Under the able direction of North's veteran Cross Country coach, Rolfe Chambers, the two-mile men recorded another respectable season in the sport that North Side has been known for many years.

The hill and dale men compiled a 10-3 season record, finished second in the Sectional to a strong Central team, and fifth in the conference meet.

Next year's outlook is enlightening as only two lettermen will be lost and there will be seven of the varsity returning. This year's captain and only senior, Gary Tustison, and Tom Stanski, who will be ineligible, will be missing from next year's squad. Returning will be this year's top runner Pete Poorman, Steve Rinne, Bob Peppler, Tom Spice, Charles Hostman, Bob Miller, and Steve Newhard.

IN SECTIONAL; 10-3 SEASON

The secret of success for the squad was team balance. Gary Tustison, Tom Stanski, and Roy Strohl show their backs to the opposition as they pull away for another balanced team score.

This year's captain and only senior member was Gary Tustison. Here, after a grueling meet, he is talking to the captain of the Michigan City squad, Dave Kocher, and ex North Sider.

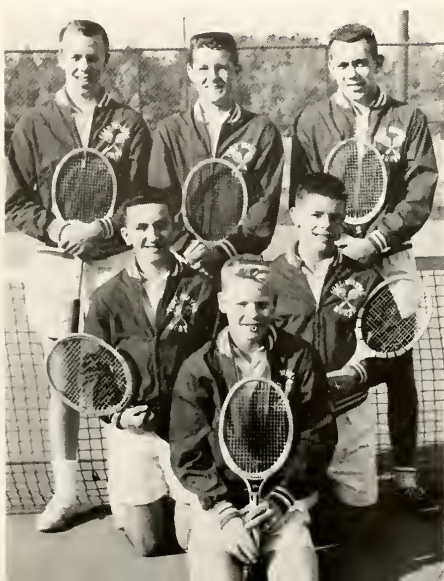

Jay Osborn and Forrest Redding were often used for one of the doubles combinations on this year's squad. Competitive play and fighting spirit made them valuable.

Looking over the season's results, Coach Henderson awaits the last meet.

"We had an average season," commented Coach Myron Henderson. He added, "the conference had three very good teams this year and I think our fourth place finish is a respectable one."

Elkhart and Michigan City tied the Netmen in a three way tie for fourth place, each team boasting a 4-4 season record.

This year's team was built around Seniors John Johnson and Phil Fretz and Junior Forest Redding, the three returning lettermen. Junior Mike McVey and Senior Steve Swank rounded out the first team. All of these boys were awarded a monogram this year, the captain's stripe going to John Johnson.

The boys generally agreed that Goshen's Redskins gave them the most competition. They rated the two South Bend schools, John Adams and Central, next. John Adams won the Eastern division of the Northern Indiana Conference and then downed the Western division winners for the Northern Indiana Tennis Crown.

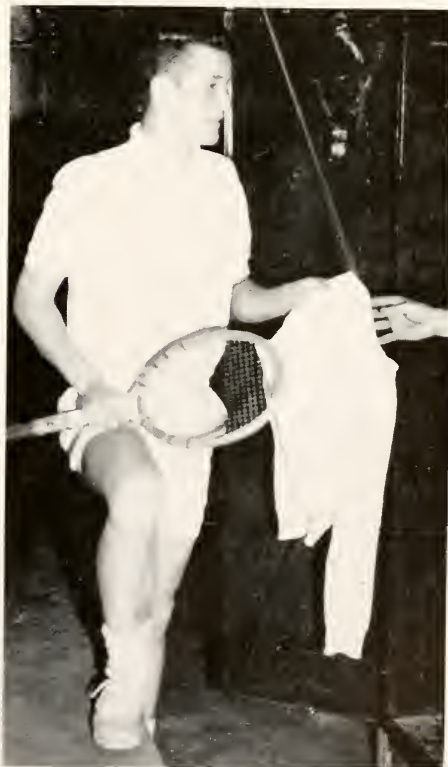

Returns with speed and accuracy are the key to Mike McVey's success. Mike, a junior, and in his first year on the team will be a valuable asset to our team next year

The desire to win plus vigorous practice and co-operative play makes the doubles combination of Phil Fretz and Steve Swank most effective.

TRACKMEN POWERFUL AGAIN;

With an excess of good quarter milers and good sprinters, Coach Rolla Chambers built his team around the running events this year. With strong mile and half-mile relays also, Coach Chambers expected another good season.

Seniors Jack Arney, Dale Zumbaugh, and Bernard Kelley handled the sprints with Larry Fair and Mike Poorman running the middle distances. Underclass help came primarily from Pete Poorman in the Mile, Tom Stanski in the Half, Jack Hallenback in the high and low hurdles, and Sonny Gordon in the broad jump.

The Redskins showed their power in early meets by defeating Muncie, Kokomo, Central, and South.

Elkhart was expected to give the team the most trouble in their effort for the Eastern Division title of the Northern Indiana Conference, and Hammond has been tabbed as the team to beat for the Northern Indiana Crown. However, the thinclads were expected to give a good account of themselves as they shot for another state crown.

Before any actual workout, the Redskin thinlies go through a strenuous warm-up of calisthenics and exercises.

SEEK ANOTHER STATE TITLE

Senior Larry Fair brings the baton home far ahead of the opposition as the Mile Relay triumphs at Bloomington.

Clearing the last hurdle, Jack Hallenback shows the winning form which carried him to victory throughout the year.

Long famed for our mile relays, Coach Chambers produced another winning combination with this edition of Mike Poorman, Steve Reader, Mike Ormiston, and Larry Fair.

North's points in the half-mile this year rested on the performances of Tom Stanski. Besides capturing the 880, Tom anchored the record-breaking two-mile relay team.

The one-two punch in the sprints this year was handled by Seniors Jack Arney and Dale Zumbaugh.

Running the 440 and anchoring the mile relay were the cinder duties of senior Mike Poorman this year.

The speedy half-mile relay team added many points to the Redskin cause this season. It was comprised of Jack Arney, Bernard Kelley, Jack Hallenback, and Dale Zumbaugh.

Stan Heine goes up and over the bar in the pole vault. While North was rather weak in the field events this year, they should receive support next year from Stan.

Pulling away at the finish, Pete Poorman wins the mile in the South-Central Meet with a good time.

Special development programs prove very beneficial.

THREEFOLD GYM PROGRAM DEVELOPS REDSKINS

Mr. Hyrle Ivy's boys swimming classes offer a very refreshing diversion from the classroom. These classes in water sport and safety are especially welcome come spring.

Basketball is just one of the many entertaining sports offered to the boys in the gym classes.

Every boy must have four semester credits of physical education in order to graduate from the Dome.

Because of the large enrollment each class is divided into three parts. Mr. Don Kemp instructs the boys in physical development, Mr. Don Bruick and Mr. Bob Cowan handle the gym division, while Mr. Hyrle Ivy teaches swimming. The boys are rotated through these three divisions in a semester's course, in order that each boy obtains a well rounded program.

In physical development the boys learn to build their bodies through a series of flips and other acrobatic gymnastics. In gym class the boys play many different games including basketball, and kickball. Swimming class gives those boys who don't know how to swim the opportunity to learn, while those who already know participate in races as well as practice to improve their strokes.

Physical education is a part of every freshman, sophomore, and junior girl's curriculum. These girls meet twice a week for instruction in the gym or swimming pool.

Since all freshman girls are required to take gym, the classes are large and only group sports may be taught. Modern dance, square dancing, girl's basketball, volleyball, and softball highlight this phase of the physical education program. Miss Carroll and Miss Gause both teach frosh classes, with Miss Carroll handling all of the advanced gym classes.

Because of the smaller enrollment in advanced classes, some of the individual sports such as Table Tennis, archery, and bowling are taught.

Miss Gause instructs the swimming classes, which are subdivided into four parts. These are beginning, intermediate, advanced, and lifesaving. The girls learn to swim, learn the different strokes, practice and improve their strokes, and receive senior lifesaving badges for these four divisions.

When the weather is right, the girls take to the outside for an enjoyable game of softball.

GIRLS GAIN VARIETY OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Swimming provides the girls with a pleasant hour of learning new routines and having fun.

Gym classes for girls prove helpful in many ways .

GAA STIMULATES ATHLETIC CURRICULUM

This year's officers, along with their advisor, Miss Carroll, were Kay Notesline, Esther Breesse, Sandy Read, and Pat Bruck.

GAA, under the direction of Mrs. Jean Gause and Miss Ruth Carroll completed another successful year. President elect of the club was Kay Notesline. Sandy Read served in the capacity of Vice President, while Ester Breeze was chosen Treasurer.

GAA is open to all girls. Its purpose is to stimulate the co-curricular phase of the high school girls physical education program. The local organization is a member of the statewide, Indiana League of High School Girls Athletic Associations.

Special events of the year included a weekend trip to a state leadership camp and a later trip to a district dance clinic.

These girls hold their business meetings the first Monday of each month. However, almost every afternoon there is some activity going on for which members can earn points. Swimming, as well as various gym games can net points for the girls. According to the state point system, members can also get credit for recreational activities away from school. These include the following: skating, bowling, bicycling, horseback riding, and numerous others.

The Ripplettes practice long hours to perfect their routines for the water show.

Ripplettes, North's advanced swimming club for girls, had a membership of sixteen this year. Their new advisor was Mrs. Gause.

There has been keen competition for membership in this select group of mermaids since only Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors may join. In the spring of the year members judge tryouts on the following: ballet legs, dolphin, revolving duet, oyster, submarine, surface dives, somersault, and basic strokes. In addition to these qualifications prospects must be able to swim twenty-two lengths of the pool and maintain at least a "B" average scholastically.

This was the year for the club's biennial water show. This year's program was entitled "Dreams in Color." The general chairman of the event, which was put on under the girls' supervision, was Sally Henry. Two girls' advanced swimming classes and several boys also took part. This was the first year boys had taken part.

WATER SHOW HIGHLIGHTS YEAR FOR RIPPLETTES

The Ripplettes this year were Pam Barnam, (on raft) Karen Karger, Kathy Kreigh, Sandy Read, Judy Glock, JoAnn Chrzan, Colleen Longworth, Janet Beckman, Marsha Grant, Marsha Seibert, Sally Henry, and Ilse Bohlander.

KEMP REVIVES EXTENSIVE INTRAMURAL PROGRAM

Mr. Don Kemp was responsible for renewing the Intramural program.

Mr. Don Kemp expanded North Side's Intramural program this year with the addition of seven new activities. Mr. Kemp states that these activities are only the start of what he hopes will blossom into a full fledged program in the near future.

Knowing that a majority of the boys around the Dome do not participate in athletics, Mr. Kemp is introducing numerous other activities in addition to the varsity sports on an intramural level. His main objective is to offer a form of exercise to those boys who do not take gym any more. Many who are currently participating in physical education classes are also taking advantage of the increased program. Mr. Kemp is proud of the interest shown this year and hopes even more boys will be able to participate next year.

An estimated five hundred boys turned out this year. Basketball was deemed most popular as one hundred and ninety-two boys signed up for the sport. Wrestling, which was divided into weight classes, drew the attention of seventy-one boys. Touch Football and Cross Country were next in popularity.

Mr. Kemp hopes to have an Intramural lineup such as follows: Cross Country, Touch Football, Tennis, Horseshoes, Swimming, Golf, Bowling, Ping Pong, Wrestling, Basketball, Volleyball, Track, and Softball.

Basketball provided many thrills for Redskins this year. Here the Sofa Soccer squad battles for the championship. Wrestling was a welcome addition to the sports program. Tom Shoaff is attempting a hold on Joe Emenhiser.

Horseshoes was an unusual sport added to the intramurals this year.

During the lunch periods, football captured the interest of many Redskins. This was another of the many sports opportunities offered by the intramural program initiated by Mr. Kemp. This and many others were widely accepted at North.
